Glendale
Plans Big
Celebration
Over Reaching
$10,000,000
Permit Mark

WHEN the chimes of the clocks throughout the city struck to register the hour of 12 today the Glendale building permits for the year 1923 up to that time had not only reached the much-coveted goal of $10,000,000, but had passed this figure by nearly $5000.

Such an achievement as this justifies its heralding all over United States. Nothing is more worth while in the growth and progress of a city than the building of homes, and the greater part of the $10,000,000 represented these.

THIS record explodes the theory that a boom is responsible for Glendale's unprecedented growth. We have been proud to call Glendale the "fastest growing city in America," but we are more gratified that those who have come here through this publicity have, to a great extent, stayed and built their homes in our midst.

THE Glendale Realty Board is promoting a mammoth parade and celebration to commemorate this event and the people of the city to a man should give their most hearty co-operation and assistance.

Saturday, January 6th, has been named as the day best fitted for holding the celebration. The parade most likely will be the largest ever held in Glendale. There is even some talk of the business houses closing during the festivities.

SHOULD Glendale again have the prize-winning flower parade, Pasadena rose carnival nothing could be done which would have a greater appeal as a publicity stunt than to have that float in the lead. But, win or lose, both the city float and the one the Elks club has entered in the tournament would be a big addition to the line-up. If the Glendale citizens owning airplanes would have them follow the line of march by hovering over it in the sky the triumph would be complete.

Word was received this morning of the death of Mrs. Virginia Lemonds, mother of Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, superintendent of music at Glendale Union high school. Mrs. Lemonds passed away December 26, 1923 at her residence, 3975 Park boulevard, San Diego, at the age of 83 years. She had been quite ill for some months and had made her home with her daughter, Effie M. Lemonds.

Mrs. Lemonds leaves three daughters and a grandson, Miss Annie Lemonds of Los Angeles, Miss Effie M. Lemonds of San Diego, Mrs. Dora L. Gibson and James W. Gibson of Glendale. Mrs. Lemonds was a member of the Gentry family, which was founded in America when two brothers came from England to Virginia in 1644. The family has been active in pioneer life and is now one of the largest in the country. Funeral services are to be held at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Bradley Woolman chapel, San Diego, with interment at the Masonic cemetery. Mrs. Gibson was with her mother when she died and remains until after the funeral services.

NEW HOME OF DIXIE
PACKARD AGENCY IS NOW BUILDING

Construction has been commenced at the northwest corner of Palmer avenue and Brand boulevard, Glendale, upon the new home of the Dixie-Packard agency. W. H. Daniels, who is now located at 510 East Broadway, hopes to be able to move into his new establishment in about 60 days. The building will be 50 feet wide and 100 feet long. Sides will be of concrete blocks furnished by the Concrete Brick and Tile company at 440 South San Fernando road. Specifications call for a composition roof, a cement floor and an ornamental stucco front. H. E. Jones of 548 Alexander street is contractor.

GLENDALE'S 1923 PERMITS OVER $10,000,000

Eagle Rock Has Its Municipal Christmas Tree Program Tonight

TEN MILLIONS IN PERMITS ALREADY

Glendale Passes Goal Set
Year Ago at Noon
Today

Glendale building permits for 1923 at noon today passed the $10,000,000 mark. James F. Green of 702 East Colorado street had the honor of taking out the final permits which were issued by Fred Nicolaus of the building department. They call for the construction of two four-room bungalows at 1168 and 1172 Alameda street for $2500 apiece and pushed the total for the year over the top by $4687.

With two business days left this year, the total for 1923 already exceeds last year's total of $6,305,971 by $3,698,716, or over one-third.

December's total at noon today was $782,521. This exceeds last December's total of $487,521 by $297,000 or one-third also.

Recent permits include the following: James F. Green, two four-room bungalows, 1168 and 1172 Alameda, $5000; Commonwealth Home Building company, 6 rooms and garage, 468 Milford, $5000; Kit Medlin, 3 rooms, 421 West Windsor, contractor, L. V. Gibbs, $1000 A. S. Fielding, 6 rooms and garage, 1306 Oakridge, contractor, A. Young, $900; Howard C. Wood, garage, 1170 Western, $200; E. H. Sawyer, alterations, 214 Sinclair, $300; Roger J. Tighe, 4 rooms, 1227 East Windsor, $2000; C. M. Retts, 4 rooms and garage, 419 West Acacia, $2500; C. M. Retts, 4 rooms and garage, 413 West Acacia, $2500; R. M. Herman, 5 rooms and garage, 711 West Doran, $3500; Julian Petroleum corporation, service station, 320 South Brand, $1500; H. H. Chapman, garage, 228 South Jackson, $300; James H. Nesbit, 4 rooms and garage, 1037 Allen, $1000; P. L. Sommerfield, 4 rooms and garage, 1708 Glenwood, $2500; J. E. Henderson, 6 rooms, 407 West Acacia, $4000; Dr. McIntire, repairs, 307 West California, contractor, M. Parker, $200; T. B. Thompson, 4 rooms and garage, 521 West Lexington, $2600; T. J. Anderson, 4 rooms, 614 East Maple, $1500.

FOUR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS INVOLVED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Four Glendale high school boys were involved in an accident about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the roadster in which they were riding upset.

As a result Marion Morrison of 227 West Colorado street is home with two ribs broken and Graham Crofton of 361 Salem street is home with his right leg fractured. Allan Brummell of 415 West Wilson avenue was driving the machine and Horace Horsford of 233 North Central avenue was another passenger.

The accident occurred while the roadster was turning from one of the new streets in the Bellhurst tract into Glendale avenue. Wheels of the machine are said to have locked.

The injured boys were taken to the office of Dr. E. T. Remmen for treatment.

BELATED CHRISTMAS MAIL IS STILL POURING IN

Christmas' mail continues to pour into Glendale, according to Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, who remarked this morning that this is evidence that packagers were not mailed from the middle west early enough. He stated that the substitute clerks and carriers would be kept on duty Monday if necessary. He added that the incoming mail is being distributed as fast as received.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR PALMER LOUIS HARWOOD SUNDAY

On Sunday afternoon, December 30, there will be held in the Central avenue Methodist church a service in memory of little Palmer Louis Harwood, who died December 11. Owing to the nature of his sickness it was necessary to hold the funeral privately, but it was felt that a public service should be held for the benefit of the many friends of the family.

Although but four years of age little Palmer gave evidence of an understanding of spiritual things, far beyond his years, asking his mother questions concerning the future life and seeming to have a premonition of his departure.

The many friends of the family were deeply grieved at the passing of this little life, so full of promise and will be glad of this opportunity on Sunday afternoon of expressing their sympathy to Mrs. Harwood and her family.

BURBANK TRUSTEES MAKE HISTORY ONCE MORE

The Burbank council gathered for business as usual at 7 p. m. promptly. The first matter to be brought up was an injunction served upon the city with Maude Silver as the complainant against the removal of an old large eucalyptus tree which stands five feet out in the proposed improved street of Verdugo avenue beyond the Olive avenue crossing. The matter is purely one of sentiment as the old tree has been standing there for years. But owing to the improving of said street the tree must be cut down as it would be dangerous to the traveling public and in case of an accident the city would be responsible. The board discussed the situation thoroughly and before taking action will investigate further.

There was a hearing on the assessment and disapproval for the improvement of Providence avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets; Varney street between Providence and Verdugo avenues and Olive avenue and Pass avenue on water mains. There were no protests.

The board passed on three new ordinances, Nos. 228 and 229 governing the collection of light and water bills, setting the date of delinquency to 15 days in place of 30 days, and No. 230, governing the charges for the use of electricity and water by vending machines.

A petition for the improvement of Alameda and Main street was read and granted and the city engineer instructed to prepare the grades for improvement.

Two maps, Nos. 8041 and 5026 for subdivision tracts in the city of Burbank were approved.

The proposed new auto camp for which Mr. Roberts has sought permission from the trustees to establish and to which objections were lodged by the business men in the district of Olive and Front streets in the form of a petition, was again discussed at some length. The board finally instructed Mr. Roberts to bring in a counter petition favoring his proposed auto camp.

Upon suggestion of Trustee Watson, the city will offer $25 as prize for the best booster song on Burbank. This contest is open to all and will be a medium of advertising and bring the attention of outsiders to our city. The details for this contest will be discussed and adopted at the next meeting.

The city clerk was instructed to procure a silk flag to be hung in the council room to replace the old bunting that has hung there for some time. Chief of Police Long was instructed and authorized to appoint a pound master, and upon the chief's suggestion the board adopted a fixed rule governing the salaries of the police, as follows: $125 for the first three months, $140 for the second three months and after six months the salary will be $150 a month.

The city attorney was authorized to prepare an ordinance prohibiting bicycles, roller skates, scooters and all toys on wheels from being operated and used on San Fernando boulevard.

The usual bills were allowed.

THE WEATHER

[By Associated Press]
Southern California: Fair to night and Saturday; light to heavy frost tonight except near the coast, gentle northerly winds.

KIWANIS CLUB ELECTS 1924 OFFICERS

A. L. Baird is Choice for President, and A. L.
Ferguson Retires

Today's meeting of the Glendale Kiwanis club at the Tuesday Afternoon club house was devoted largely to routine business and the election of officers. The following officers were elected: President, A. L. Baird; first vice-president, Dr. T. C. Young; second vice-president, Bert Perry; trustee, A. L. Ferguson; secretary, Don Webb; treasurer, Herman Nelson; directors, Frank Fox, Lyman Clark, Frank Echols, S. W. Brown, W. L. Truitt, Wm. Bode and Emil Kiefer. The vote for some of the officers was very close, indicating the equal popularity of candidates.

The proposition to aid in building of Glendale's float for the tournament of roses was discussed by George Lyons and other members and $150 was voted for the same.

A. L. Ferguson, retiring president, paid a high compliment to the board of directors and other officers who have worked so hard for the club during the past year. Cam Thom made a neat little speech and presented Mr. Ferguson with a gold pin in appreciation of his splendid work for the club. President-elect A. L. Baird assured the club members that he will lend every effort toward keeping the club in the front rank, and if possible urge the members on to do a greater work the coming year.

W. H. Cooper, Dr. T. C. Young and Dr. Jack Anderson were reported seriously ill.

MARYLAND AVENUE FOLK TALK ABOUT IMPROVEMENT

Owners of property on Maryland avenue held a meeting Thursday night at the store room in the Glendale Press building to consider the needs of that street. W. F. Tower was selected chairman of the meeting and Bert Woodard as secretary. Those present seemed to be pleased that an improved system of street lighting had been adopted by the city council. After some discussion it was recommended that similar lights to those placed in the block from Wilson to California and that a test expensive standard should be placed from California avenue north.

The question of a wider street was introduced and discussed at considerable length but no action was taken. The sentiment of those attending the meeting did not seem favorable towards this. The opinion expressed by several was that Maryland avenue would not become a business street for a long time, if ever, and that if it became an apartment house district the present width street was sufficient.

Howard Brown called attention to the fact that if a set-back line was established and provision made for a wider street now, with the start of business in the two blocks from Harvard street to Wilson avenue already, Maryland avenue had a good prospect to become a business street.

Dr. Jessie Russell addressed the meeting in the interests of a corporation that has purchased a site running from Brand boulevard to Maryland avenue and stated that plans had already been adopted for the erection of a theater that would come out to within three feet of the sidewalk on Maryland avenue. She stated that the proposed widening of that street would seriously interfere with the work. The meeting adjourned without any action being taken towards the widening of Maryland avenue at the present time.

DIM OIL LANTERN ON AUTO CAUSE OF ARREST

A dim oil lantern instead of regular lights upon his automobile last night caused the arrest of M. Fernandez of Montrose who spent the night in headquarter's cell. His machine struck Tom Traski of Tijuana who was brought to the Glendale sanitarium hospital with minor injuries.

ALOHA TO PATTERSON PARK'S FAMOUS MENAGERIE

Glendale's menagerie is now no more!

Sam Warren, superintendent of Patterson park, today is full of grief.

Ten guinea pigs, housed in a box under a tree, were observed the day after Christmas lying on their backs and with their feet in the air. Mr. Warren became convinced that they were dead.

"It's a shame," he sobbed, "we expected about 10,000 guinea pigs around here next week, for you know 'pigs is pigs.'"

An opossum, who lived in a box suspended from another tree, had his home blown away during the big wind and has not been seen since. It is understood that he had a few uncomplimentary remarks to make about cyclones.

GLENDALE FIRM PLANS GREAT EXPANSION

Sheet Metal Works Buys
Big Building, Will Double Capacity

One of the big transactions of the week was the purchase by the Glendale Sheet Metal works of this city of a new two-story cement-tile building 50x90 on San Fernando road near the junction of that great thoroughfare with Pacific avenue. Lloyd Wilson, familiarly known to his friends as the "San Fernando road king" was the seller, the consideration being $20,000. Work upon it is being rushed that it may be ready for occupancy early in January.

The building is to be equipped throughout with new and modern machinery capable of taking care of the most intricate jobs of work that may be offered.

The Glendale Sheet Metal works of which Thomas D. Watson is president and treasurer and Valencia C. Watson, secretary, plans to establish at this location a branch factory, their business having increased so rapidly as to make necessary additional quarters. While they will continue to do business at the present location—127 North Glendale avenue, the new factory will enable them to take care of the two sections of the city to better advantage than at present and it will give them an ideal site on the great industrial boulevard of the city.

Officers of the Glendale Sheet Metal works have been peculiarly fortunate in manning the new factory, as arrangements have been made to move the entire staff of a sheet metal works at Highland Park which has discontinued business. By means of this arrangement an organization already in working order has been secured, all the men being experts in their different lines.

In addition to sheet metal work, the new branch will do considerable auto-body and fender repair work as the locality is becoming quite an auto center. In the same block is a battery station and an auto-body painter has also established himself there. Several garages are in the near vicinity.

DROVE AUTO WHILE INTOXICATED AND DRAWS $250 FINE

H. A. Eddins of Los Angeles, who caused considerable excitement in the vicinity of Brand boulevard and Burchett street in Glendale about 5:45 p. m. Christmas day, was fined $250 this morning by Judge F. H. Lowe for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. After his machine had crashed into another car parked on the east side of the Brand boulevard, it went over the curb, smashed a bicycle and came to a standstill in a vacant lot.

ROTARIANS ARE HONORED BY OWN FOLK

Club Members Honored
by Forty-One Wives,
Mothers, Sweethearts

Forty-one wives, sweethearts or mothers of Glendale Rotarians entertained them with their regular annual complimentary dinner Friday evening at the Tuesday Afternoon club house. The prettily appointed tables were given a Christmasy guise, by decorations of poinsettias and greenery, with a little green Christmas tree guarding a nut basket at each plate, and red candles, in candlesticks which had been tied with bows of red ribbon, illuminating the board.

No feature essential to a really recherche banquet had been neglected and a very special kitchen orchestra, directed by Mrs. Dan Kelly with a rolling pin was much in evidence, playing the things dear and familiar to ears trained in Rotarian harmonies, such as "Dixie," "We Have No Bananas," and "Star Spangled Banner." The artists constituting this organization so new to Glendale musical circles were: Mrs. James Newton, Mrs. Rule Downing, Mrs. Al Eastman, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. Rene Olin and Mrs. George Bentley. Each player had a bazooka. A pan upon which a tattoo was beaten with a potato masher served as a bass drum, the snare drum being a frying pan played with artistic fervor with a kitchen spoon. A toy piano, supplemented with a section of stove pipe, provided the organ accompaniment and a coffee grinder and flour sieve each carried parts effectively. White uniforms resembling kitchen aprons, and helmets suggesting sink drains were worn by the musicians who were further decorated with spoon ear-rings.

Greetings from other Rotary clubs were presented by Mrs. Warren Newton, Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mrs. Rule Downing and Mrs. Ernest Ford, and "Francis" Henry brought greetings from Scotland. These described Christmas festivities elsewhere and were of great interest.

A musical story for which Mrs. Helen Sawyer played a piano accompaniment written by Mrs. William Hunter and read by her, provided a guessing contest. It prophesied what the future forty years from now would have in store for prominent members of the organization and at intervals songs were referred to without being named, which were played by Mrs. Sawyer and identified by the guests. The prize winner for the ladies was Mrs. Frankie Webb, and her son "Harry" Webb qualified for first honors on behalf of the gentlemen. All the airs were familiar, including such favorites as "A Perfect Day," "Silent Night," "Long, Long Ago," "We Have No Bananas." Thirty-four were played.

Another top notcher upon the program was the poem celebrating the good work of "Ed" Hewitt, written by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kelly and read by Dan. It is printed in full elsewhere.

Mrs. C. H. Kirkman made a delightful Santa Claus, presenting gifts to all the guests, each accompanied by an original verse composed by Mrs. Charlotte Busby. There was not a dull moment throughout the party which began with the serving of the delicious four-course dinner at 7 p. m. and ended with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" led by "Francis" Henry about 11 p. m.

Mrs. William Hunter headed the hostess committee and was assisted by Mesdames Charlotte Busby, J. I. Wernette, Roy Kent, Francis J. W. Henry, W. A. Tanner, and Helen Sawyer.

MANAGER REEVES APPOINTED AIDE TO NAT'L COMMANDER

City Manager W. H. Reeves has received official notice from Ralph H. Carroll of Cincinnati, adjutant general of the United Spanish War Veterans, that he has been appointed an aide upon the staff of the national commander, Albert D. Alcorn. Captain Reeves is a past commander of the local camp.

ALL EAGLE ROCK TO HONOR CHRISTMAS TIME TONIGHT

All Eagle Rock residents are urged not to forget the Christmas tree celebration tonight at the city hall. Considerable has already been said about the program but it should be emphasized that all who miss it are missing a treat indeed.

Christmas comes only once a year and this is the one big time of the year when all can get together, boost the town and have a fine evening's entertainment also. There will be speeches, duets, orchestra selections, songs by a massed choir and many other events of considerable interest to every one.

The Kiwanis club, through Santa Claus, has ordered candy canes of such a number so that every child in Eagle Rock will have one.

The order of the events is as follows, with D. J. Root presiding: Orchestra number, Eagle Rock school orchestra; community singing, "Joy to the World"; invocation, Rev. W. J. Carry; violin solo, Mrs. H. Myers; anthem, Methodist church choir; community singing, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing"; cornet duet, "Silent Night"; William Pfeiffer and Harold Lippold; anthem, Presbyterian church choir; anthem, Congregational church choir; community singing, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear"; benediction, Rev. Robt. Renssion; arrival of Santa Claus.

The police have made arrangements to handle the large number of people and machines and the time is 8 o'clock sharp.

BURBANK MAN HIGHLY HONORED AS HE QUITS JOB

Mr. A. E. Dufur, assistant manager of the Burbank branch of the Security Trust and Savings bank, will sever his connections with the bank the first of the year and will open up an office in the Gregg building in the line of life insurance for a New York company. He has been a part-time agent since 1912 for this same company. Mr. Dufur came to Burbank in 1896 and in 1911 began work as assistant cashier of the First National and the Burbank Savings bank. In 1923, when the bank became a branch of the Security Trust and Savings bank, he became assistant manager. In accepting his resignation, the bank feels that it has lost one of its most capable, reliable and trustworthy men and it with great regret that the officials see him leave, but they wish him the greatest of success in his new venture which cannot help but be successful as Mr. Dufur is a gentleman of irreproachable character, sterling worth and fixed integrity and with the blending of these qualifications his business enterprise could be naught but successful. He has furnished beautifully an office room in the Gregg building above the Wilson-Wash drug store on the corner of Olive avenue and San Fernando boulevard, and will be open and ready for business January 3rd, 1924.

A farewell dinner-party was given by Mr. R. O. Church of the Burbank branch of the Security Trust and Savings bank and the employees to Mr. Dufur. A very beautiful and elaborate dinner was served in the Japanese room of the Mary Louise, the table being gorgeously decorated with sweet peas and fern with noisy favors of crickets, bugs and gay little trinkets, which were the cause of much merriment. Many toasts were offered and Mr. Church gave a wonderful talk about Mr. Dufur and his faithful service since entering the bank, after which Mr. Church presented Mr. Dufur with a beautiful desk set for the new insurance office which he is to open, a gift from all of the employees of the bank, which he received with an appropriate little speech of acceptance and gratitude. Those present at the dinner were Elsie Wicker, Beniah Ludlow, Louise Bufington, Mabel Napper, Ruth Trout, Lillian Gould, Ethyl Russell, Velma Rogers, Octavia Lesener, Zella Caldwell, M. Stevenson, R. O. Church, A. E. Dufur, Dave Preston, Marshal Flore, Claude Elver, Rupert Malone, Lee Rothenberg and G. H. Green.

SON BORN TO MR. AND MRS. J. M. ALDRICH YESTERDAY
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Aldrich of 651 Alexander street, Glendale, yesterday noon at the Glendale Sanitarium hospital.

SERVICE STATION AT ELK AND BRAND

Grading was commenced this morning on the northeast corner of Elk avenue and Brand boulevard for the new service station being erected for the Julian Petroleum corporation. It will cost about $1500.

Glendale's Sewer EXPERT INFORMATION FURNISHED DAILY ON THIS GREAT PROJECT

(In this column will appear from day to day, comments on the sewer project, which is the biggest thing that has ever confronted the citizens of Glendale, also articles prepared by the publicity committee of the sewer committee of the chamber of commerce which may be considered as expert information.)

A TRADE
The agreement and contract between the city of Los Angeles and the city of Glendale, providing for a sewer connection to the Los Angeles sewer system really represents a trade between the two cities.

Glendale wanted to build a sewer system but had no place to dispose of the sewage without building an independent outfall sewer to the ocean at a great cost and a fight with the beach cities about getting a place to dispose of the sewage into the ocean.

Los Angeles already had an ocean outlet for disposal of sewage and is building a disposal plant, a submerged outlet into the ocean a mile from the shore, and a larger outfall sewer from the city of Los Angeles to the ocean for which $12,000,000 bonds have been voted. Los Angeles also needs further extensions of this main intercepting and outfall sewer but has no funds at present to build them. One of these is the proposed line up the San Fernando valley serving the territory naturally draining into this valley, including Glendale.

Each city had something to trade. Glendale offers to build the section of the San Fernando intercepting outfall sewer from Sixth and Utah street to Aviation drive near Doran street, as her part of a trade for the use of the outfall sewer from Sixth and Utah streets to the ocean, the use of the Los Angeles sewage disposal plant, the submerged ocean outfall and the right to discharge sewage into the ocean.

Both cities are benefitted by the trade. Los Angeles gets the needed extension up San Fernando valley without waiting for another bond issue. Glendale gets a chance for the immediate construction of a sewer system, a permanent solution for sewage disposal, a saving in cost over a possible separate disposal plant and its operation and maintenance, or a saving in cost of constructing an independent outfall to the ocean.

A few have raised the question, "Why should Glendale build a sewer large enough for Van Nuys, Lankershim and the other territory up the San Fernando valley above Glendale?" Then why should Los Angeles give up a part of its outfall capacity, sewage disposal capacity and ocean outfall privileges to Glendale? If Glendale would only agree to build a sewer to carry only the ultimate sewage flow of Glendale, then Glendale would not have anything to trade. If Glendale builds only a certain increment or portion of the entire outfall as a compensation or trade for the use of the whole system to the ocean and the use of the disposal works.

The upper San Fernando valley communities included in the corporate limits of Los Angeles are helping pay for the Los Angeles outfall sewers and will also have to pay, either upon another bond issue on the whole city or by improvement district methods, to extend the San Fernando intercepting outfall sewer from Aviation drive before they can use it.

Glendale will derive the greatest immediate benefit from this sewer as it will be the largest territory in population served by this sewer that can immediately use the sewer upon completion of its sewer system. The trade does not limit the amount of sewage from Glendale except that when the capacity of the sewer is reached, neither city shall make further connections. The designed capacity is sufficient to provide for a growth for the entire valley for 30 to 40 years and perhaps a longer period.

This is a good trade and the agreement should be ratified by the voters on January 8, 1924.

READERS TESTIFY TO GOOD WORK DONE BY CARRIERS

The management of this paper is highly gratified at the response that the public has made in acknowledging the good work done on the part of the Press' carrier boys.

Those carriers whose customers have already sent in letters are vying with each other to see what they can do to make better delivery.

Folks, your carrier boy is human. If he does not do his work well he expects to be sharply reprimanded and we live up to his fondest expectations in this regard. On the other hand, he likes appreciation and should get it once in a while.

Kindly thoughts spoil no one and improve one in every way. If you are pleased with your delivery service let us know by mail. Get into our popular carrier boy contest and help some boy win a $25 prize. He will benefit, you will also, and so will we. Our aim is to give you service. That is the foundation stone on which the ever-increasing circulation of the Glendale Press is laid and on which it has grown. Write your letter today. Address it to Dwight K. Mitchell, circulation manager, and your carrier boy will be judged by this means alone.

NEW BRANCH BANK OPEN FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY

On Saturday, December 29, the Federal Commercial & Savings Bank will extend its service to the people of Glendale by establishing additional banking quarters, distinct in management from the parent bank at 612 East Broadway, opposite the city hall.

This will greatly add to the convenience of hundreds of people who reside in the eastern section of Glendale and who wish to transact their banking business in Glendale with a home bank.

The same efficient and courteous management with C. C. Cooper, president, and J. V. Rea, vice-president and cashier, as active officers, that has built the deposits of the Federal Commercial & Savings Bank at the corner of Brand and Wilson to cover $500,000 in four months, will be maintained at the East Broadway location. Mr. George T. Harness, assistant cashier, together with J. V. Rea, will be in active charge.

A strong advisory board of representative citizens chosen from the stockholders, who number over a hundred influential citizens and property owners of Glendale, will assist in shaping the policy of the new bank. This advisory board consists of: J. V. Rea, chairman; Fred S. Dixon, capitalist and Glendale property owner; Francis J. W. Henry, vice-president and general manager Henry-Brown Co., Inc.; E. M. Brown, proprietor Glendale Feed & Fuel Co.; E. E. Harrington, Glendale investor and capitalist; J. C. Sherer, city treasurer and well-known citizen; and Robert F. Adams of the Superior Printing company.

Every depositor on the opening day and during the following week will receive either a lady's or gentleman's Art Craft pencil, as a memento of the occasion. This opening will be in the form of an informal reception from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday to the people of Glendale.

LOS ANGELES OPEN FORUM SUNDAY NIGHT

The last meeting for 1923 of the Los Angeles Open Forum will be held next Sunday night, Dec. 30, at 7:45 in the Music-Art hall, 233 South Broadway. It will bring to the attention of the people of this city a matter of the very greatest concern, namely, "The Federal Constitution and the Supreme Court." Attorney Marshall McComb, lecturer on political science at the University of California, Southern Branch, will be the speaker.

Recent decisions by the supreme court have raised many questions as to how far this judicial body should be allowed to go in its pronouncements upon the constitutionality of acts passed by congress. Should there be a new amendment to the constitution limiting the right of the court to pass upon important legislation? Should the supreme court be required to pass unanimously upon any measure before it is declared unconstitutional? These and other questions are being debated freely everywhere throughout our country today. Come and hear them discussed next Sunday night by one who is regarded an authority upon the subject.

The music at the opening of the meeting will be rendered by Prof. Rigmund Bland, celebrated violinist of Pasadena. Prof. Bland's former performance before the Open Forum will assure a large audience upon this occasion.

FORTY CHILDREN ENJOY CAVANAH STUDIO PARTY

Over 40 children were present and enjoyed a most happy Christmas party given for the pupils of the various departments of the Cavanah studio, 130 North Orange street. All departments were represented on the program, violin, piano, voice and dramatic art. There was dancing, children's games and fun galore. A feature of the affair was the large, electrically lighted Christmas tree. Each child was presented with a bit of Christmas cheer in the form of boxes of candy, etc.

Events of Interest to Glendale and Its People

Mrs. R. F. Kitterman entertained 17 guests at a 1 o'clock Christmas dinner at her home, 311 North Kenwood.

Mrs. H. C. Levey of 811 South Glendale avenue has been confined to her home for the past week with a slight touch of influenza.

Mary Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Ferry of 614 East Acacia street, is spending the holidays at home. She is attending Ramona convent in Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson and family of 221 Arden avenue were Christmas guests of Mrs. Hanson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Botsford of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kempe and son Allen of Chicago were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cleophas of 337 North Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Houston of 440 Myrtle street were the guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Driver, who were the hosts at a delightful dinner and theatre party in Los Angeles. There were 17 guests present.

William J. Fellows, attorney at Phoenix, Arizona, is the house guest for several days of his brother, D. H. Fellows of 421 East Windsor road. The latter will return to Phoenix with his brother so as to spend the New Year with his mother, Mrs. Wm. Wallace Fellows of Phoenix. Wm. J. Fellows was called to Southern California on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil G. Johnson and sons, Richard and David, of 463 Myrtle street returned Thursday afternoon from a week's motor trip to San Francisco and Stockton. They went to Stockton to attend the funeral of Mrs. Johnson's brother, Wm. J. Comfort, and then went to San Francisco, where they were Christmas guests of Mr. Johnson's parents.

The following Christmas visitors were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, 414 North Maryland avenue, during Christmas week: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Armstrong and daughter Marjorie of Kings City, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Armstrong of San Diego, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl McCormack and children, Fred, Helen, May and little Billie, and Henry O. Kringle of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hickman of 456 West Windsor entertained Christmas dinner at a delectable Christmas night. The king of the feast, an enormous turkey, came from Kansas. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Imler and baby daughter, Adelaide, and Mrs. A. H. Imler and daughter, Marjorie.

Miss Josephine McDuffee of Mills college is spending her holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McDuffee, 113½ West Chestnut street.

E. F. Sanders of 121 Fairview avenue was unable to report for his duties at the chamber of commerce today because of illness.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW AND ENLARGED BANK BUILDING

Marking further progress in the development of the Glendale avenue and Broadway districts, the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank announces a formal opening of the new and enlarged banking room of the Glendale avenue branch.

There has been added a new and modern safe deposit department, which includes the installation of a new vault and individual private booths for the safe deposit patrons. The escrow department has been made an integral part of the banking room and private booths have been provided for those using the escrow service.

Mr. Herman Nelson, Glendale vice president and manager said that the growth and expansion of the branch had made the former banking room wholly inadequate, and that his banking force would be immediately enlarged in order to render more efficient and quicker banking service, particularly the tellers' service for the daily patrons. Mr. Nelson stated that it was the announced and strict policy of the Pacific Southwest banking group to discourage speculative or unsound promissive ventures. He said further that it was the policy of the Glendale avenue branch, which is operated as a separate unit, with its executive board composed of conservative and substantial citizens to encourage the development of that district by offering adequate banking facilities through the loaning power of an organization with resources in excess of $240,000,000.

The Hollywoodland orchestra, a musical organization which may frequently be heard over radio, has been procured to furnish music for the occasion, and refreshments will be served from 3 to 10 p. m. on Saturday, December 29th, 1923, during which time no banking business will be transacted.

Friends of Mrs. A. P. Findlay of 506 East Harvard will regret to learn that she is confined to her bed with a severe cold.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of Bel-Air, Kenneth road, has been confined to her bed since Christmas day with an attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. James Forbes of 419 Lincoln avenue spent Christmas with Mr. Forbes' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Forbes of Los Angeles.

G. M. Harrison and "Bill" Harrison of Long Beach, former residents of Glendale on Cypress street, have been visiting old friends here this week.

Miss Madeline Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Love of 220 West Elk, who is a senior at Berkeley, is home for the holidays, but will return to the bay city the middle of January.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Henry of 315 West Harvard were dinner guests Wednesday, December 26, of Mr. Henry's mother, Mrs. Myra Henry and daughter, Miss Pauline Henry, who live in Pasadena.

Mrs. Florence Atwood of Schenectady, New York, who has been spending the winter at San Diego, is expected to arrive in Glendale on Saturday to spend the New Year's holidays as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hastings of 319 West Lexington drive.

Guy Pearson and wife of Brawley were visitors to Glendale, their old home, during the past week. They were guests of Mr. Pearson's parents, Isaac H. Pearson and wife, of 644 East Harvard and his brother, James W., also of their son, Marshall, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hester of 1145 North Central entertained Wednesday at a Christmas dinner for 20 guests, all relatives from San Pedro, Los Angeles and other nearby points. The evening following the dinner was devoted to mah jong.

Mrs. Abiel Leonard of Los Angeles whose husband was an Episcopal bishop for many years before his death, was a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac H. Pearson of 644 East Harvard. When Bishop Leonard was a small boy he was a Sunday school pupil of Mrs. Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Woodburn, who sold their home at 636 East Harvard a few months ago and then went to the home of Mrs. Woodburn's youngest son, Logan Mitchell, near Little Rock, for an extended visit, have returned to Glendale to live and are now located at 1146 Viala avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Fellows of 421 East Windsor road entertained as their holiday guests Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Johnson and three sons of Riverside, Mrs. Teddy Fellows of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Sutton and children, Beatrice, Lillian, Lurilla and Filbert of Glendale, Walter Conrad of Glendale and Donald Bulger of Los Angeles.

DE MOLAY OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED LAST NIGHT

Officers of Glendale, chapter, order of De Molay, were installed last night at the Masonic temple. A large crowd was present to witness the installation ceremony, the only public function allowed by the order. Past Master Councilor Paul Morgan presided in the east as installing officer.

The officers entered in procession in their robes of office and were seated in a triangle around the altar. Then as each was installed he was conducted to his station. Master Councilor Wesley Goodfellow was the first to be invested with his jewel of office and was seated at the station in the east. Following him the others were installed.

Mr. Louis gave several vocal numbers during the progress, singing "Aloha" as his final number. Ira L. Vance, former chairman of the advisory council, made a short talk and was followed by Master Councilor Wesley Goodfellow who gave a brief address to the members and their friends. Announcement was made of the De Molay dance to be held January 5 in the Masonic temple.

Following the installation ceremony the crowd adjourned to the Egyptian Village Cafe for dancing and refreshments. The officers installed last night are as follows: Wesley Goodfellow, master councilor; David Lynd, senior councilor; Cullom Hefington, junior councilor; Henry Winaus, scribe; LaVerne Fletcher, treasurer; Jack Wright, senior deacon; Fred Hand, junior deacon; Irvin Carver, senior steward; Claude Whitfield, junior steward; Elmer Fitz, chaplain; Howard Elliot, marshal; C. E. Chamberlin, almoner; Rudolph Herman, standard bearer; Allison Rathbun, sentinel; Harold Shively, organist; Paul Morgan, orator; Wesley Pomeroy, Vivian Taylor, Howard Wimmer, C. G. Farrow, Neal McIvor, Cecil Wilson and Ronald West, preceptors.

HUNGARIAN PIANIST HONORED AT CLEOPHAS HOME

Mrs. E. Cleophas and daughter, Miss Gertrude Cleophas of 337 North Central avenue entertained as their dinner guests on Thursday night Erwin Nyeregyhazy, Hungarian pianist, who makes his home in New York City, Franz Geritz, artist, of Los Angeles and Miss Gladys Hopper.

MRS. FARRELL ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. J. O'Neil Farrell of 1831 Gardena avenue is entertaining with a social evening at her home tonight. The affair will be in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Stephen Baird, who is visiting here from Oakley, Calif., and will also be in the form of an announcement party, announcing the coming marriage early in February of Miss Mildred McCoubrey and Francis McClintock. Miss McCoubrey is also a daughter of Mrs. Farrell's. Mr. McClintock was formerly a resident of Glendale and is now of Los Angeles.

Let's remember
THE MAN WE ALL
HOLD MOST DEAR

(This poem, composed by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kelly, was read at the Rotary entertainment last night.)
Friends of Rotary and comrades all,
We are here tonight on a Christmas count.
As we all make merry and enjoy good cheer,
Let's remember a man we all hold dear.

He of whom we speak is busy each
Doing this and that for our town.
Is it any wonder that this one man
Of all has most renown?
For this one man that we herald
aloud,
So cheery, so happy and gay.
This man is found in every crowd.
That boasts Glendale on its way.

Among the friends of this one man,
Not an ill word have they to say.
They declare instead that his one man
Is the big man of the day.
It makes no difference to this big man
To just what the task alludes.
He is there with the hand that puts it through.
Just as sure as interest accrues,
Whether it's Boy Scout work or Liberty Bonds,
This man is always nigh.
And when he leaves his earthly home,
His station will be high.

Now we don't believe in fattering a man
Or giving him a lot of "go."
But we do believe in praising a man
When praise to him is due.
Now of this man's name of whom we speak,
We'll tell you in just a while.
But this is the truth, and that's what counts,
His latest is something of tile.

And while we are writing this little note
Of our friend, who we love to speak,
We hear he's been confined to his home
By illness for close to a week.
And now we're through we'll leave it to you,
Have we been wrong to do it?
He is not the man of the present hour,
Our own beloved Ed Hewitt?

ROTARIAN VISITORS GREETED YESTERDAY

In order that Rotarian visitors might not be disappointed, the board of directors of the Glendale organization met at 12 o'clock Thursday and welcomed a list of guests which included L. T. Cowan and Mr. Napper of Burbank; C. S. Kemp of Phoenix, Ariz.; Frank Chapman of Providence, Ohio; Dan Barnard of Mitchell, South Dakota; and Harry Scott of Santa Rosa.

There was no program, merely a business session and exchange of greetings with the visiting Rotarians.

MANY VISITORS AT I. O. O. F. LODGE MEETING LAST NIGHT

At the regular meeting of the Glendale lodge of Odd Fellows, held Thursday night at the I. O. O. F. hall, corner of West Broadway and Orange street, a visit was paid by the San Fernando Valley encampment of Van Nuys, to which a number of the Glendale Odd Fellows belong. There were also a number of visitors from other states. Noble Grand Hall presided at the meeting, which was one of the biggest that has been held in some time.

Installation of new officers is to take place sometime in January. A dancing party is being planned for January 16. Proceeds will be used to purchase new robes for the officers to wear in putting on the work.

EIGHT OF TEN NEW GRAMMAR SCHOOL TEACHERS CHOSEN

Members of the Teachers' committee of the board of education met yesterday and selected eight of the ten new teachers needed to instruct the additional pupils in Glendale city schools who have been added to the roster since the schools opened in September and who will be coming in at the opening of the new semester February 1. Two were selected at a previous meeting together with two others who are giving up their positions either temporarily or on a leave of absence or resigning.

The eight elected Thursday morning and their assignments follow: Miss Katherine R. Beckfelt, 4th grade, Broadway; Miss Balborg T. Helfeth, 4th grade, Central avenue; Miss Elwina J. Snider, A3 and B4, Colorado; Miss Margery F. Bowers, B4, Columbus; Mrs. Anna Elliott Nellis, A3 and B4, Doran; Margery A. Townsend, A2 and B3, Grand View; Miss Lenore B. Cravens, A3, Pacific avenue; Miss Ruth M. Havemann, Glendale avenue.

Of the four others appointed, Miss Marian F. Tanner has been assigned to A3 and B4, Acacia; Miss Bessie Marks to A5 and B6, Columbus, and will begin her teaching January 2 instead of waiting until February 1 to take the place of Mrs. Mabel Codel Nelson who will be absent on leave; Miss Lulu A. Whitlock, 5th grade at Doran.

Helen K. Brackett who has been teaching in the Doran street school has been transferred to the Glendale Intermediate. Miss Mabel Ahl goes to the Wilson avenue Intermediate.

EASTERN STAR CHAPTERS TO ENTERTAIN GRAND OFFICERS

On January 11, Glen Eyrie chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, combining with San Fernando and Eagle Rock chapters, will entertain the grand officers of the grand chapter of the state of California. The first regular meeting with the newly installed officers of Glen Eyrie presiding will be held at Glendale Masonic temple tonight.

MRS. BENTLEY ENTERTAINS MEMBERS R. T. W. CLASS

Mrs. J. Roger Bentley of 535 Cumberland road entertained with a delightful Christmas party at her home Thursday afternoon. Her guests were members of the R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church of which she is president, and there were forty ladies present. Mr. and Mrs. Bentley have recently moved into their new home in Kenneth Heights and the house was beautiful with its holiday decorations.

A short business meeting was held, after which a shower of beautiful and dainty gifts was given for one of the members who has just announced the arrival of a son. A large Christmas tree in one corner of the room attracted the attention of the members. At the base of the tree was a grab bag, from which miscellaneous small articles were distributed. Refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and home made cake were served by the hostess, Mrs. Rene Olin. Mrs. Bert Marple, Mrs. J. W. Headlee and Mrs. Bentley. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jennie B. Dorse, teacher of the class, 360 Salem street.

TITIAN PAINTING TO BE EXHIBITED SUNDAY EVENING

In order that the members of the Congregational church and the people of Glendale might have another opportunity of seeing one of the world's greatest paintings, "Raising Lazarus from the Dead," by Titian, master of the Venetian school of Italy, this picture will be on display again at the Sunday night services at the First Congregational church, corner of Wilson and Central avenues. Interpretation and historical data of this wonderful work of art will be furnished by the owner, W. Crawford Anderson. This painting is one of the five of Titian's in America and was painted 420 years ago.

MASQUERADE BALL AT CATLEY HOME TONIGHT

Decorations that are unusual and will prove a surprise to the more than 100 invited guests, have all been placed preparatory to the masquerade ball to be given tonight by Mrs. Florence C. Catley, the Misses Catley and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hardy Thompson. Clever invitations in rhyme have been sent out, as follows:

"December ye twenty-eight is ye night
When ye manor doors will be opened wide
For a frolic of olde yule-tide,
And ye who enter at eight of ye clock,
With faces masqued and raiment bright,
Guard well the secret of whom ye be
Till the ringing bell bids all to see.
To find ye way 'twill not be hard,
'Tis 923 North Brand Boulevard."

DR. COYNE GOES TO INDIA AS S. D. A. MISSIONARY

Dr. A. E. Coyne, a member of the staff of the College of Medical Evangelists in Loma Linda, and the White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles, has gone to Southern India as a medical missionary for the Seventh Day Adventist denomination in response to an urgent call for medical assistance in that part of the world.

Doctor Coyne has gone to a section of India which until quite recently was closed to missionaries. A native prince, uninterested in the Christian religion but very much interested in the western methods of treating disease, told the government that he would build and equip a hospital if the government would furnish a doctor to take charge of the enterprise. This was agreed upon, and Doctor Coyne has responded to the call.

When Dr. H. C. Menkel, director of the medical missionary work for the Seventh Day Adventist denomination in India, was in California a short time ago in connection with his furlough, he laid the proposition before the White Memorial hospital and Loma Linda physicians, and Doctor Coyne agreed to go. Doctor Coyne is now there conducting the institution.

GIVES CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON PARTY TO MILFORD CARD CLUB

Mrs. H. A. McPherson of 607 North Central avenue was hostess on Thursday to the members of the Milford Street Card club at a Christmas luncheon party given at her home. The luncheon table was centered with a huge snowball, which was found to contain Christmas gifts for all present. The members of the club came attired as children and enjoyed a most jolly afternoon. First prize for high score at cards was awarded to Mrs. Vinton of Los Angeles and consolation prize went to Mrs. Reed Heustis. Those present included Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Mrs. H. V. Brummel, Mrs. H. P. Strain, Mrs. J. H. Southard, Mrs. Pierre Potter, Mrs. H. G. Hosford, Mrs. Eustace Young, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton, Mrs. James Stocker, Mrs. Vinton, Mrs. Reed Heustis and the hostess. The next regular meeting of the club will be held on January 10 with Mrs. Potter. The club members are invited for a social afternoon next Monday at the home of Mrs. J. H. Southard.

MRS. WEAVER HOSTESS TO MISSION STUDY GROUP

Mrs. Weaver, 402 East Harvard, was hostess to a Mission study group of the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon, about fifteen ladies gathering to study the Japanese social problem and its solution. Devotions were led by Mrs. T. G. Love, who outlined the lesson, all the ladies taking part in the discussion.

HELPLESS CITIES

Los Angeles and Pasadena would be glad to save the Atroyo Seco. It is needed as a water course to carry off the winter floods. It could for much of its length be utilized for park purposes. It is possible, however, to get sand and rock out of the Atroyo Seco. So steam shovel and crusher are kept busy there. The result is that beauty is being destroyed, usefulness impaired, and the adjacent property not only threatened with loss of value, but some of it with actual extinction.

For months the cities have sought to stop the work. Citizens have protested long and angrily. Mass meetings have been held to denounce what was regarded as an outrage. Now and then something has been published concerning an injunction that was expected to be effective. The present status of the case, so far as revealed by public information, seems to be that the shovel and the crusher continue to shovel and crush, and that to the respective maws of them an injunction counts considerably less than a pebble.

For years Telegraph Hill at San Francisco has been eaten into by quarries. Large surface areas and the connecting streets, have vanished, together with a considerable part of the hill itself. This eminence adds much to the picturesqueness of San Francisco, and it is so located as to be a valuable protection against the winds. For it to vanish utterly, as seems its destiny, would be likely to change waterfront conditions for the worse. San Francisco has grumbled and fought against the invasion, but in vain.

It is strange that cities should be so helpless, and so readily yield to the commercial spirit that is ever ready to harm all for the benefit of a small group.

THE PRIDE OF CASTE

The other day the authorities at Toulon had occasion to remove the head of one Delval, a duty for which the guillotine served with its accustomed precision. This Delval was a remarkable character, a communist who took pride in his standing. The judge having accused him of theft Delval tried to assault the court. "Judge, you treated me with great injustice," said the prisoner, aiming at the judicial jaw. "I am not a burglar but a slayer of policemen." His estimate of himself was partly correct, for he had by violent means removed three of the police of Toulon, including the chief.

This man died shouting "Vive Russia! Vive anarchy!" He was typical of his class. His doctrines are the kin that efforts are now being made to spread over the world. The danger of the growth of communism is lessened by education. Its theories lay hold on the mass mind only because when there is ignorance on the part of the masses. It is for this reason that bolshevism has failed to get a foothold in Germany. The people there are in sore straits. They are confronted by various cliques, each with its professed panacea. Republican principles struggle with those of monarchy. But the bolshevik cannot take advantage of the mental confusion, to interpolate his hateful policies. The trained mind, however harassed, rejects them.

When a man reaches the stage at which Delval had arrived, he is a fanatic. He takes a frantic pride in his own status. He imagines that he is a hero, savior of the oppressed. He glories in his crimes and resents being classed as a malefactor of less attainment. The educated public never will follow the teachings of such madmen.

NO PUBLICITY WANTED

Announcement was made that a list of Washington patrons of a bootlegger had been found. In the list of names were those of the capital's elect, social and political. It was said that the list was to be printed. Great was the dismay on the one hand, and on the other there were choruses of delightful expectancy. The patrons did not crave publicity. The innocent, or uncaught, thought that in the circumstance a publicity in which they were not participants but spectators would be a fine holiday jest, or a moral uplift. Then the list vanished before the printer could get his hands on it. Somebody knows how and why, but nobody has told.

The fact that people break the law many of them do not seek to conceal. Rather they are likely to brag about it, and to point the opportunity to friends to join the ranks of illegality. Yet they shrink from real publicity. They desire to retain the aspect of respectable citizenship. They are not really proud of aiding the bootlegger to declare dividends. They may affirm that they have a perfect right to defy the constitution, and yet were they to see their own names in a list of lawbreakers, they would be ashamed.

It is a common thing for individuals to scramble for publicity. They want it for its value as advertising, or the mere possession of it seems to gratify them. The screen star needs it in his or her business. But the patron of the booze purveyor finds that publicity is one of the non-essentials; in fact that it is obnoxious.

PEACE OR EXTINCTION

There are in Europe today a million more men under arms than in 1914. Whatever may be the humor of the common people, indications are that the nations are again drifting to war. That European civilization could survive the shock of another great conflict even the most sanguine find difficult to believe. Ahead of Europe seems to be the alternative of peace or extinction.

France is under the burden of a heavy debt that increases constantly. Its statesmen are not even giving consideration to the vast sum owed the United States. The French are determined to collect from Germany. On the hope of collecting they seem to base all their plans. Should the hope fail, even retention of the Ruhr would not be a stable base on which to build a future. Germany would be ruined. England would suffer through the crushing out of its trade. There are smaller nations full panopied for battle, that in case of a clash of the larger powers, would be plunged to destruction no matter on which side they might align themselves.

Yet with no prospect that war could accomplish anything, redress any wrong, revivify any industry; with the prospect on the other hand, that it would reduce Europe to a hopeless desolation worse than barbarism, the governments permits hatreds to dominate, and their energies to be concentrated on tearing down the social and economic structure reared by centuries of effort.

A recent observer of conditions overseas says that the worst must come unless there shall be intervention by the United States. What form could be taken by such intervention? Nobody answers the question. The people of America would be glad to save the people of Europe. They do not see how this may be done. If Europe has determined on suicide, war is the sure instrument.

After a self-made man has finished the job he should make a few friends to be used in case of emergency.

If a penniless man has nowhere else to go he should go to work.

One good excuse is better than a thousand poor ones.

A man never knows what love is until he has spelled powder.

A wise woman shows discretion in the selection of things to be left unsaid.

SPOTLIGHTING MOTHERS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

One of the cheapest of the many cheap things that we Americans do is to "spotlight" the grief of mothers.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

Before me as I write is a paper which has given three columns and a couple of photographs—something like $1000 worth of publicity—to a woman who sits in court watching her son as he is tried for his life.

The interviewer explains that the mother believes the son innocent.

Naturally she does. She has probably spent her maternal life believing things about her son instead of finding out facts concerning him and in the light of those facts correcting his faults. Anyhow she gives us the interesting information that if her son be guilty of killing a man, as the law charges, it was due to his "impulsive nature."

With no desire to be harsh, except to those who are miseducating the masses and encouraging loose thinking, I wish to ask why that woman who had a man child in charge from the day of his birth did not curb and direct that "impulsive" nature? It is not enough that her son was good to her, as she asserts. It is vastly more important that he should have been a self governing individual, safe and balanced in all his social relations.

Her declaration of belief in her son, her published excuses for him, are nothing but parts of the public exploitation of maternal grief. It does nobody any good but it supplies the occasion for a few easily shed tears.

Against my will but as part of my reportorial duty I have interviewed the parents of many criminals, but never yet did I hear one of them say anything worth publishing. The fact that one is the parent of a criminal does not suddenly confer wisdom, and I for one am at a loss to understand why the public should feel that the parents of criminals are proper persons to advise us on moral issues.

Of course this opinion will change no editorial policies, but I do hope that it will do a little to make us ashamed of our putrid curiosity about painful emotions, especially the emotions of criminals and their kin.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Seems to me that every time I've seen Mr. and Mrs. Henny Adams lately they've been complaining. Something always wrong. If you met either of them alone the recital of their ills was just a monologue, but if you happened to flush the pair they sang a sad duet. I got to be thoroughly conversant with their unfortunate ills.

"Speaking of reparations," I'd say in a grim effort to get away from the Adams' troubles by bringing up the only state on earth that was worse off than theirs.

"Yes," either Adams would reply, eagerly, "I would like to know what effect semi-starvation has on the German health. Now, for me—"

And they were off again. I got to avoiding the Adamses. I do not care how much you love and admire a person, you do not want to hear more than two or three times about his inactive gizzard. This morning I met Henny and he said nothing about his health. Bright-eyed, husky, peppy, he seemed the Henny Adams of old. So I brought the subject up myself.

"Well," said Henny, "I'm not eating meat." He seemed rather ashamed. I gathered that people had hurled metaphoric rocks at his head. The Adamses flee from fish, and they regard the humble and succulent oyster and clam and crab as being a shade more dangerous than prussic acid. Henny regaled me with a list of things that he can and does eat that seemed as long and uninteresting as the moral law.

"You ought to try it some time," he said. Well, I will not. I like three-inch steaks, broiled to an ineffable delicacy over glowing coals. A pork chop away from the Adams' troubles. My idea of happiness is one roast chicken and solitude. And, in the event that any one is even slightly interested, I will say that I am getting along fine.

In fairness I must also admit that onions, cabbage, bets, turnips, cauliflower, carrots, and other vegetables which I can only regard with loathing seem to have saved the Henny Adamses.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Humility. That is the greatest lesson of wisdom. Arrogance is the index of littleness. Of the unthinking.

James W. Foley

Only unthinking people are arrogant.

For a breath carries the arrogant off to the worm and the dust.

Leaving perhaps nothing but a disagreeable memory behind.

Napoleon was mighty over all of the earth.

The ruler of nations beating down and destroying opposition with sword and cannon.

Having himself crowned as emperor.

Making kings of members of his family.

And for years he ruled by might.

Arrogant, imperious, powerful.

And at last the world rose against him.

He was banished.

His imperial insignia stripped from him.

Guarded on an island as a felon might have been.

And there was William Hohenzollern.

Another arrogant monarch.

Seeking domination over the world.

Declaring a partnership with God.

And going forth to be master of men and nations.

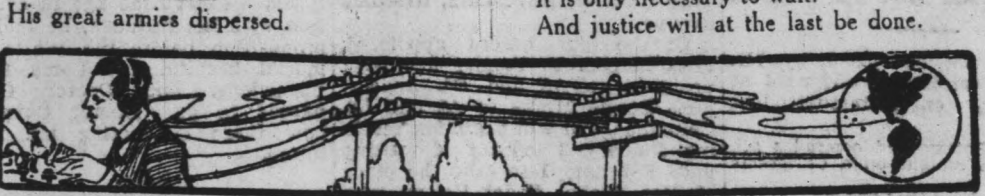

Now he is an exile.

A thing to be scorned.

His rattling sabres rusted.

His cannon broken.

His great armies dispersed.

Songs of the Poets

Death the Leveller—By James Shirley

The glories of our blood and state

Are shadows, not substantial things;

There is no armour against Fate;

Death lays his icy hand on kings;

Sceptre and Crown

Must tumble down,

And in the dust be equal made

With the poor crooked scythe and spade.

The garlands wither on your brow;

Then boast no more your mighty deeds!

Upon Death's purple altar now

See where the victor-victim bleeds.

Your heads must come

To the cold tomb:

Only the actions of the just

Smell sweet and blossom in their dust.

Some men with swords may reap the field,

And plant fresh laurels where they kill;

But their strong nerves at last must yield;

They tame but one another still:

Early or late

They stoop to fate,

And must give up their murmuring breath

When they, pale captives, creep to death.

OLD CLOTHES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE only clothes that are really clothes are the old clothes.

Men may be divided into two classes, those who have one suit and those who have more.

With the purchase of the second outfit a man's slavery begins.

When one has but a single coat it looks like him. When you see it, and his one vest and one pair of trousers, laid out on a chair at night, you are tempted to cry, as Michael Angelo exclaimed, looking at his completed statue of Moses, "Why don't you speak!"

The one suit of clothes becomes created to your personality. It is as much a part of you as your skin.

Only the man with one set of garments may be said to be clothed at all, in any proper sense of the word; those with more wear uniforms.

When you take clothes to a tailor to be pressed you might say: "Remove my ego. Steam away my characteristics. Iron out my personality. This suit is becoming like me. I am ashamed. I feel indecent. Reduce me to the herd level."

Good clothes are the despair of artists. A painter shudders when he is expected to portray the fashionable tailor's very latest. When he paints for his own delight or for art's sake he invariably chooses the one-suited—the beggars by the Spanish stairs, the tattered demagogues and arabs of the street.

And as for sculpture, its death blow was given by the invention of pantaloons. I can see that bronze statue of Benjamin old Senator Hoar yet in my mind's eye as it sits by the city hall upon the common of Worcester, Mass. And I now recall in my memory what I always saw with my fleshy eyes, nothing of his face or mien, but only those metal "pantaloons" looking for all the world like two grim cannon, up-ended, with the senatorial feet sticking out of their muzzles.

When you visit foreign parts the people you love most to observe are the "types," which means those who are real persons, each with one suit of clothes moulded to his personality. The smart set in the fashionable hotel, and the table d'hôte set at the pension are the same the world over; they might be in Kokomo, Ind., or in Florence, Italy; they are all "men without a country." It is the common folks who are interesting. They alone are patriots.

It is the common folks who are uncommon. The well-dressed and much dressed are all alike—"flat, stale and unprofitable."

The western cowboys, the Basque peasants, the gypsies, the Tyrolean mountaineers, the Bavarian country people, the London fishwives, the Provencal vine dressers, the shepherds of Syria, the Bedouins of the desert, and Lo, the poor Indian—all these are people it is worth while to know; whereas all the honorable gentlemen, monsieurs, signors, and misters, and particularly all club fellows, nobles and high-mightinesses, why one looks about like another.

Women with 40 gowns talk of loving clothes. The expression is not only untrue it is hardly decent. The only woman who loves her clothes, with a pure, loyal, monogamous affection, is the woman who has but one dress to her name.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

A Chicago financier is finding that to be a millionaire wholly by reason of stolen millions, is not much fun.

Chicago has almost three million people, and many of them stay there because they like the place.

Society people of Washington listed as bootleg patrons learn that the list has disappeared, its disappearance being a welcome holiday present.

It is too bad that politics cannot be kept out of the penitentiaries. As to politicians the case is different.

Doctors now believe they can cure paresis, a very pleasing thought to entertain.

Rumor that Trotsky is to resign cannot be regarded as worth denying.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

NEED MORE LITTLE HOMES

[Copper's Weekly]

Of 25,000,000 families in the United States less than 2,000,000 have incomes of more than $48 a week, says the statistician Babson. But at least 75 per cent of the new homes built the last two years, Babson says, have cost more than $8000 including the land, which puts them within reach of about 10 per cent of prospective buyers and renters.

The home building industry today is a matter of price, and some builders, Babson points out, are finding demand for houses which are left unfinished inside, which gives the owner an opportunity to do the work himself at a great saving. Attractive six-room bungalows, built this way in Detroit, sell, land included, for $2500.

The building boom of the last two years has about supplied the demand of those who can pay high prices; but there are several million people wanting moderate-priced dwellings and live-and-let-live rent.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The claim is made that doctors have discovered a cure for paresis. It comes from the Rockefeller staff, scientists of known attainment, and hence will be received respectfully. Medical investigation has led to many triumphs.

It is singular considering the diseases that have been conquered or reduced to comparative mildness, that the death rate of the past year should have been greater than for the year before. The time was not long ago when a case of smallpox in any community meant a panic, and very likely an epidemic, due in part to fear. The victim was rushed to an insanitary pesthouse to die, and generally did so. Now a case of smallpox excites no more commotion than an individual outbreak of measles.

While diphtheria and scarlet fever slay fewer victims than formerly was the rule, ailments, such as measles and whooping cough, once considered trivial, have added to the mortality total in a startling fashion. Of such destructive agencies as cancer and pneumonia little apparently has been learned, but they progress despite any skill in treatment, and devotion to research.

The deaths due to automobiles figure in the tables of insurance statistics. For the year there was an aggregate of 16,000. However, medical science cannot be expected to suggest any remedy for that.

This column touches but casually the subject of sports, but then with full respect for the square sportman. It has seemed that Charlie Paddock is such a sportsman, that a studied effort has been made to harass him, and one naturally wonders why.

Defenders of bolshevism are having rather a hard time in defending the red flag propaganda which is an indication of the bolshevik faith. In fact, far more would be thought of the intelligence of the defenders if they were to keep still concerning this particular point.

That's a wild take about the resignation of Trotsky. When a man has risen from the necessity of borrowing two-bits, to a place where millions of his serfs have to eat out of his hand, he does not resign.

About once in so often there comes a great swindler so adroit and elaborate in his operations that he seems to be a genius; sadly perverted it is true, but still a genius.

Such a swindler is Leo Koretz, late of Chicago, present address unknown. He got away with millions, most of it taken from friends, and part of it even from his mother. He is not believed to have spent a merry Christmas.

A Los Angeles newspaper man, waxing reminiscent, recalls that twenty years ago he could buy a suit of clothes for $12.50, the dealer encouraging trade by throwing in a six-pound turkey. Alas and alas, what would that sum do now towards the purchase of a suit and a turkey? A button and a feather.

Oregon seems not to believe in the methods of Diaz. The president of Mexico believes that even a revolutionist may have the makings of a good citizen, and is more valuable dead than alive. To Diaz a revolutionist was a mere target for the firing squad.

A correspondent of a southern paper suggests that the adherents of evolution, and others who decline to accept hell as a place of flame and brimstone, should be crucified head down.

Doubtless the letter emanated from a person who thought to play a joke. It is impossible to believe that anybody in the world is so malignantly stupid as to have written such a letter in good faith.

Four young ruffians attacked a girl they encountered in a lonely spot. They are all in jail, identified, and if ever they are again at large it will be because justice has received a black eye.

Sterilization of the manifestly criminal unfit and incurable moron is a rather grim method. It has been so lately put into effect that the good result is not yet visible, but it is certain to appear.

They have arrested a woman for impersonating a screen star, although the star in question has impersonated scores of different people and never got into jail.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

JOY KILLERS

Beth was getting ready for school, and as she packed her book satchel she sang loudly, "So let us chant our chorus gaily merrily."

"Beth, Beth," called her mother, "Stop that! Stop it right away. Don't you know that 'Sing before breakfast, you'll cry before night?' Never sing before you start work in the morning!"

Beth stopped and looked at her mother in amazement. Then she laughed. "O mother. How foolish!"

"Nothing of the kind. I tell you singing before you start the day's bad. Something'll go wrong. Mary my words. Something's bound to go wrong, if you sing first thing in the morning. Never knew it to fail! Something will happen." So Beth ran off to school.

That afternoon she came home with a long face. "Oh mother. I make a mistake on my algebra paper this morning. It'll cost me twenty per cent. Just a careless mistake with a sign. Such luck!"

"There! Didn't I tell you something would happen? Didn't I tell you not to sing the first thing in the morning? Now next time perhaps you'll listen."

Shortly after that Beth was telling her friend how strong she had been this term. "Haven't been sick a single day so far," said Beth proudly.

"Knock wood, knock wood!" called her mother. "Don't you know it isn't good luck to speak about how well you are or how well things are going with you? Keep still or something will happen."

You wouldn't think that there were people who believed that way unless you heard them. You would scarcely believe that there are people who teach children to hide their joy and success even from themselves. It's so horribly stupid.

Joy and the feeling of success and what brings success. Thoughts of health bring health.

It is a healthy, joyful, successful child who sings the first thing in the morning. He is tuning up his body and mind for the day's work, and for anyone to kill that joy is unspeakable.

The first step on the road to successful achievement is the strong thought that the dream will come true and that the dreamer is the very one to make it come true.

There's a large dose of truth in the statement that "thinking makes it so." It is especially true with children who are setting their minds toward their life work. Success is mainly a matter of attitude and if that is right all the rest is bound to follow.

And if your vision of the power of thought is limited, as is that of most of us, by the hampering physical burdens of life, you can at least refrain from being a joy killer and cease from croaking old saws that suggest failure to children who have no such thought. Let the child sing and dance, and be well and do well and cheer for him. That anyone can do.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

A Brief History

By FRANK P. LITSCHERT

CHAPTER SEVEN

LINCOLN RE-ELECTED; ANDREW JOHNSON

The renomination and re-election of President Lincoln in 1864 seemed practically assured. A number of his radical opponents held a convention before the regular Republican convention, nominated General John C. Fremont for President and General John Cochrane for Vice President. Fremont and Cochrane, however, withdrew and threw their support to Lincoln in the fall campaign. The regular Republican convention met on June 7, 1864, and was called to order by National Chairman Morgan. Robert J. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, was made temporary chairman of the convention. The convention then organized and named William Denison, of Ohio, president.

The platform declared: That it was the highest duty of every American citizen to maintain against all its enemies the integrity of the Union and the permanent authority of the constitution;

That the convention approved the determination of the government not to compromise with the rebels or to offer any terms of peace except those based on an unconditional surrender;

That the constitution ought to be amended to prohibit slavery forever in the United States.

Every resolution endorsed the administration of President Lincoln, approved immigration, urged economy, pledged the early payment of the public debt, and reaffirmed by inference the faith of the party in the Monroe doctrine.

Lincoln, Unanimously

The resolutions were adopted by acclamation and then the nominations were taken up. Every state down to Missouri voted for Lincoln. The 22 votes of Missouri were cast for General Grant, but when the final vote was announced the Missouri spokesman moved to make President Lincoln's renomination unanimous. Andrew Johnson of Tennessee was nominated vice president on the first ballot.

The Democratic convention met in Chicago August 29, nominated General George B. McClellan, of New Jersey, for President, and George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, for vice president.

In spite of the fact that Sherman and Grant had already commenced their famous hammering campaigns against the two remaining armies of the Confederacy, and all the military authorities in Europe and America had come to the conclusion that the south was doomed to defeat in a few months at best, the Democratic convention went on record as pronouncing the war a failure and demanding a cessation of hostilities. The Democrats charged also that the administration had subverted civil law to military law in states which were not in insurrection, suppressing freedom of speech and the press, and closed their platform with a resolution of sympathy for the soldiers and sailors in the army and navy, pledging them that in case the Democrats attained power they would "receive all the care, protection and regard that the brave soldiers and sailors of the republic have so nobly earned."

The Anti-War Resolution

The resolution declaring in effect the war to be a failure follows: "Resolved: That this convention does explicitly declare, as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under the presence of a military necessity, or war power higher than the constitution, the constitution itself has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private right alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired,—justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities, with a view to an ultimate convention of the states, or other peaceable means, to the end that, at the earliest practicable moment, peace may be restored on the basis of the federal union of the states."

The campaign was not so hotly or bitterly contested as the one four years previous. General Grant wrote a letter urging his friends to support the Republican ticket on the theory that the war was practically won and a defeat of Lincoln at the ballot box would only encourage the south and make further bloodshed necessary. Many prominent speakers campaigned for Lincoln, among them Carl Schurz, who declared against peace on any terms that would impair the Union or restore slavery. He was particularly effective among the many German immigrants in the northern and border states, who had remained loyal to the Union and had been an important factor in keeping Missouri from joining the Confederacy. Thousands of Irish, Scandinavians, Germans and other foreign-born Americans in the north fought bravely in defense of the Union and were not behind their native-born comrades in patriotism.

The Republicans were successful in every Union state excepting New Jersey, Delaware and Kentucky. New Jersey was the home of General McClellan, the Democratic candidate, who carried the state by a little more than 7,000 votes. Lincoln's popular majority was about a half million and the Republican majority in the senate and house was ample.

Near End

On the field of battle the war was drawing rapidly to a close. Sherman completed his march through Georgia to the sea, capturing Savannah on December 21, 1864. On December 15 General Thomas, near Nashville, destroyed General Hood's southern army, and only Lee with the army of Virginia was left opposing the Unionist forces. Sherman moved northward through the Carolinas sweeping everything before him and destroying all armed resistance. On April 5, 1865, Grant entered Richmond and six days later Lee surrendered at Appomattox. 75 miles west of the former Confederate capital.

General Grant treated the defeated army generously. His only condition of surrender was that the men return to their homes. Those who had horses were permitted to take the animals along for, as Grant said, they needed their horses for plowing. Finally Grant ordered that 25,000 rations of food be issued to Lee's half-starved veterans. The war was over.

Celebrations of victory and thanksgiving were general all over the north. There were meetings of joy everywhere. But scarcely had the first expressions of joy subsided until the whole country was plunged into grief by the assassination of President Lincoln in a box at Ford's theatre in Washington on the night of April 14.

(To Be Continued Tomorrow)

VANCOUVER, British Columbia. One hundred million feet of lumber is comprised in one order for shipment during the next few months from various ports on the Pacific Coast to Japan. This huge order has been placed with the Douglas Fir Exploitation and Export Company by the Japanese ambassador at Washington, D. C. While exact figures were not given out, it is understood the deal represents about $3,000,000.

TOURING THE SHOPS with BONNIE JEANNE

THROUGH THE WINDOW
In going her way about Glendale Bonnie Jeanne finds it a never-ending source of pleasure to gaze into the beautifully decorated windows of FERBER'S new store, Broadway at Maryland. If you want suggestions about your spring wardrobe just make a practice of watching Ferber's windows. You will find them.

A beautiful case for the telephone book, made of dark green leather, is lavishly tooled in gold.

TREND OF FASHION

By HELEN MERRILL EMERY

Charming as it is, the absolutely straight line frock with its absence of any beltline is not adapted to every figure. But what fashion is? It is in the modification of a mode to suit one's personality that clothes sense is revealed.

There are many ways of relieving the undeviating straightness of these frocks. One way is with an apron tunic reaching only part way around the figure and arranged in cartridge pleats or cut circular. Another method is to break the line by tiers, two three or a half dozen, according to one's fancy. These also extend only across the front or the order is reversed and they appear in back, leaving the front quiet plain. A third phase is that of a modified wrap-around skirt with a slight circular movement at one side. This is rather difficult to manipulate but the result is extremely good. Concentrating the fulness in front is not quite so much in evidence as it was a few weeks back but it is still seen and there are a number of interesting interpretations of this particular silhouette.

One of the smartest and most effective ways of introducing a little fulness is shown in the sketch. The frock, a delightfully simple affair of blue twill, buttons over to the right side and has a pleated apron of the material. The becoming line of the collar and the flare at the wrists are points well worth noticing.

If desired this model could be copied in velvet without sacrificing its chic or individuality.

ON NEW YEAR'S EVE
Bonnie Jeanne found everyone busy making plans for the New Year's Eve celebration to take place December 31 at the EGYPTIAN VILLAGE. She learned that there will be dancing until the "wee sma' hours" to music furnished by Jerry Parker's musical Glendale orchestra, and that there are still a few reservations open, though they have been going rapidly. It certainly gives promise of one of those "never-to-be-forgotten" New Year's Eves.

WONDERFUL PIANO OFFER

There are just 5 clearing house pianos which are to be sold at small brokerage at the PIANO EXCHANGE, 112 West Broadway, and Bonnie Jeanne, after inspecting the rare quality of tone and the splendid mahogany, walnut and oak cases found in these five new pianos, can only advise you to call early if you are in the market for a piano.

The prices on these range from $197 to $250, and when you see the makes and test the tone you are certain to make an immediate purchase, for it is extremely rare that such offers are made. A used Kurtzman, in fine condition, is also offered at $165 cash. At these prices it should be possible for every home in Glendale to contain a piano. Everyone gains enjoyment through the addition to the home of this "prmier" of musical instruments. The Piano Exchange anticipates disposing of these special cash offers by Monday.

The Paris Shoppe

STYLE WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE

"Style without extravagance" is exactly what Bonnie Jeanne found expressed in the fur-trimmed and untrimmed coats and dresses, which, much to your advantage, are now being offered at prices reduced from one-third to one-half at the PARIS SHOPPE, 233 North Brand, between Wilson and California. Furs and jacquettes in the delightful Parisian styles, also included in the price reduction, will also please you.

MAH JONGG SCORE SLATES

The devotees of mah jongg will be interested in the new slates for keeping the score of this fascinating game.

SHE APPROVES

A well ordered display—is the judgment the discriminating woman passes upon the shining white bathroom fixtures and kitchen sinks which she sees at the JEWEL CITY PLUMBING CO., 526 East Broadway.

Bonnie Jeanne considers that one of the distinctive features of this display room is the fact that there are samples of so many styles of fixtures that one can choose the style one wants from samples rather than from books. Also, at the Jewel City Plumbing company a book of bathrooms is given anyone desiring it. This contains the plans of many convenient and modern equipped bathrooms and shows all of the latest additions to the fixtures for this very important room in the house. Everyone, who at some time will build a new home, should secure one of these books.

TINSEL RIBBON PARTY BAGS

Party bags made of tinsel ribbon are roomy enough to hold all one's cherished belongings. They come in blue and silver, green and silver, and other color combinations.

The hospitable little girl will enjoy having her own chocolate set with which to entertain her small friends. These little sets consist of chocolate pot and six small cups and saucers, all gaily decorated and packed in a wicker basket.

WALL PAPER SALE ON

This is something you must not miss. Bonnie Jeanne has the pleasure of announcing to you that there is to be a reduction of 50 per cent on the price of all 1923 patterns in wall paper at HARRY MOORE CO., INC., 304 East Broadway. The stocks show exquisite patterns, which you will look upon with pride. Bonnie Jeanne suggests that the purchase of wall paper for your own room would be an excellent way to spend the Christmas check. The sale, which opened today, will continue until January 4. An early selection is advisable.

EAST GLENDALE SECTION OF CITY IS NOW FAST COMING TO FRONT

New Electric Line, Postoffice, High School Plant, Million Dollar Sanitarium Plant and Many New Business Buildings Show Unexampled Prosperity

With several hundred thousand dollars' worth of improvements in and under construction and consideration, the eastern part of Glendale is rapidly coming to the front as a business, industrial and residential section. Glendale's business is moving towards this end of the city, the High school, city hall, postoffice, Glendale sanitarium and other large institutions now being located in or planned for the East Broadway section.

Glendale Avenue Railway
Perhaps the greatest asset to the development and growth of Eastern Glendale is the electrifying of the Union Pacific right-of-way along Glendale avenue by the Glendale-Montrose Railway company, which will soon establish a regular passenger and freight service on the new line between this city and Los Angeles. Work is now under way and is being rushed to completion, and according to P. L. Hatch, manager of the G. & M. railway, the new cars will be running in less than a month, and will furnish quick and economical transportation to and from Los Angeles, by way of the old Glendale avenue tracks. This track is a branch of the Salt Lake system, which has maintained a freight service for nearly 20 years over this line. This is indeed a great boost for all of Glendale, and the eastern section is bound to reap great benefits during the coming years from this new electrical line.

Glendale Avenue Improvement
Work has also been started on the paving of Glendale avenue from Cerritos avenue in the old Tropic district to Monterey road. When completed, the street will be one of the finest thoroughfares in this part of the state, being finished with four inches of asphaltic macadam with a one and one-half inch covering of the National Paving company's prepared top dressing, which will remain smooth and give excellent service for many years to come. The paving contract is held by Peter L. Ferry, who states that as soon as a few preliminary details are carried out, such as pipe laying, etc., the actual work will commence, which should be completed in a short time. Arrangements have also been made for the installation of a complete system of beautiful electrolights, the beauty and brilliancy of which should rival those of Broadway in Los Angeles. The standards will be sixteen feet in height and will contain two large lights. All of this will prove of great benefit to this section, adding to the beauty and value of the district.

New High School Buildings
The new $600,000 high school plant on East Broadway and Verdugo road, is one of the finest groups of buildings in the state, being built to accommodate 2500 pupils. This will undoubtedly draw hundreds of residents to this section of Glendale, where values are already increasing, due largely to the great number of improvements. The new plant will be ready for occupancy within a short time, only a few minor details being left before the final completion of the school. This new group of buildings offers a great study in contrasts to the little old yellow frame High school of fifteen years ago which stood on the southeast corner of Brand and Broadway. This building contained about six rooms and accommodated less than a hundred students.

Sanitarium, Postoffice, City Hall
The new Glendale Sanitarium, now under construction at the mouth of Sycamore canyon, is another big boost for East Glendale, and when completed, will be one of the largest and most up-to-date establishments of its kind in California. Other buildings planned for this section of the city are the new Glendale postoffice, to be erected on Broadway near Jackson, a new building on the southwest corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue, and several others. The city hall is also located in this section and according to residents and business men of East Glendale, is the most prosperous and fastest growing section of the "fastest growing city in America."

WE INVITE YOU To Dine With Us

We are interested in building up every section of Glendale, but our main business is to provide Glendale with a first-class cafe and confectionery, and our rapidly increasing business gives evidence that the people are pleased with our service. This move was deemed necessary by the parent bank, located at the corner North Brand Boulevard and East Wilson, to keep abreast with the wonderful financial growth of Glendale—and to add to the convenience of hundreds of Glendale people residing east of Brand Boulevard who wish to transact their banking business at a home bank—which is small enough to keep in personal touch with each patron, yet large enough to serve you—and distinct in management.

The opening will be in the form of a public reception, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Saturday, Dec. 29th

Mr. J. V. Rea, cashier and vice president, and George T. Harness, assistant cashier, will be in active charge of the new institution, which will be a complete bank in itself, maintaining commercial, savings and escrow departments.

All Glendale is most cordially invited to this opening—to inspect our new banking rooms and to give the management an opportunity to get acquainted with all future patrons.

A Free Souvenir to Each Depositor On the Opening Day

In order to help make the opening a memorial occasion a handsome art craft pencil will be presented to each and every depositor on the opening day, and a valuable gold pencil will be given to the first lady and gentleman making a deposit. You are assured a cordial welcome, as all officers and members of the advisory board are Glendale men—fellow citizens who have the progress of Glendale at heart.

Remember the hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday.

EVERYBODY INVITED TO GLENOAKS PARADE

The invitations are out and every man, woman and child in Glendale is invited to take Saturday afternoon off and join the parade to celebrate the Glendale-Pasadena boulevard to be built through Sycamore canyon.

John Bowers of the Glendale company states that it will start from Brand boulevard and San Fernando road at 1:30 tomorrow, will move north to Broadway, then east on Broadway to Verdugo road, north on Verdugo road to Sycamore canyon, east on Sycamore canyon road and Sierra avenue to Glendale boulevard.

If the plans that have been made are carried out, it will be the most scenic boulevard in the country and a tremendous asset to the two cities it will join, Glendale and Pasadena.

An invitation to be present at the inauguration of this great mountain drive has been sent to William G. McAdoo and his secretary has indicated that he will be present and make an address.

Dignitaries of Los Angeles are expected, also members of the city council, officials of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile club of Southern California. Pasadena will be represented by similar notables from its board of commissioners, chamber of commerce and other civic organizations.

Glendale's civic and fraternal representatives will be in the van, appreciating as they do of what importance to the development of this city will be the beautiful boulevard which the promoters of the Glendale subdivision have had the enterprise and vision to put through with private capital without calling upon citizens for a bond issue, and City Manager Reeves is inviting guests from abroad, appreciating the importance of the occasion.

Conspicuous in the parade will be the steam shovel which will be put to work Monday morning to make a reality of this splendid dream of the Glendale subdividers.

MONTROSE NOTES

Banking hours of the Montrose State bank has been changed in order that more time may be given the employees in which to balance their cash and books. Formerly it was sometimes necessary for the clerks to remain overtime in order to keep the work up. The doors are open daily now except Saturday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and in the evening from 6 to 8. The increased amount of business carried through the bank has made necessary this recent change.

Mrs. M. A. Copelan is looking forward to the arrival of her husband who hopes to be here to spend New Year's day with his family. Mr. Copelan is now in the east.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Rook entertained at dinner one day this week, their guests being a number of friends whom they knew in their former home in Colorado. Those present at the hospitable entertainment included Miss Wilma Westlin, Mr. and Mrs. David Hileman and daughter of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harrison and son Lloyd of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Parker and three children, and Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Rook of Huntington Park.

This evening members of the Montrose Athletic club will meet at the Oakmont Riding Academy. The president desires that every member attend. Application and membership cards will be on hand at this time, and the club will be enabled to attend to its regular business which was delayed last week on account of the Christmas rush.

DOBSONS TO ENTERTAIN:

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY
Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dobson of 809 Melrose avenue will entertain New Year's eve with a family dinner party at which covers will be laid for fourteen, their guest list including Mr. and Mrs. James Horne, their son and daughter June and James, Jr., William T. Wallace who has just recovered from a serious illness, and Mrs. Wallace. Mr. and Mrs. John O. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollister, James McClaire from San Francisco, and the host and hostess.

FRANCIS W. READ

Yes, strange things do happen in these days! After a shock that we received recently we are prepared for almost anything. For several years western football writers have been bewailing the fact that the west, the Pacific coast especially, is discriminated against in football, and that eastern writers and critics are not aware of what the west is actually doing on the gridiron.

Now comes an eastern writer, one Tom Thorpe by name, with the statement that the west is not properly appreciated in football and puts up every big "good" game as does the east. Well, it was difficult for us to survive the shock, but we are still here. Perhaps Thorpe was "ridden" so unmercifully for his failure to place western men on his all-American selection this year that he had to make amends. Anyway, listen to what he writes under a Chicago date line:

"They play a rugged up-to-date brand of football out in California. The few easterners that have made the trip across the United States have come back with marked respect for the grade of muleskin playing they witnessed. California, Southern California, Stanford, Washington, Oregon and the remaining schools of learning on the Pacific coast play football every bit as good as any exhibited on the eastern gridiron."

"Some eastern critics are not alive to what is going on along the Pacific coast seaboard in a football way. They imagine that everything that does not originate in the east has no place on the football map. However, if these intersectional games are continued we feel that before long the east will be fashioning some of their football teachings after the example of their western brothers."

Bradshaw at Washington showed himself in the past season to be a coach of high merit. The way that his eleven conducted itself against Glomny Gus Henderson's University of Southern California eleven, Andy Smith's California Golden Bears and Andy Kerr's Stanford pupils is evidence that they played a high grade of football. Southern California played a quality of game last season against Penn State that would place them in the first rank of competitors in the east.

Thorpe makes these statements in reference to the Navy's chances of defeating Washington in the Tournament of Roses game. How long it took him to arrive at his conclusion it is difficult to say, but it was so long that it had no effect upon his selection of an all-American team. Perhaps in a few years other critics of the east will wake up to the fact same that Thorpe has "discovered."

GEORGE WALSH DAY AT BALL PARK SUNDAY

"George Walsh day" at the local ball yard Sunday afternoon will be a great success, according to all present indications. Plans are being formulated to make it the biggest day seen in the White Sox park.

George Walsh, motion picture actor and former professional baseball player, who is leaving for Rome shortly to take the leading role in the film production of Ben White, will play left field with the White Sox against the Palms-Culver City aggregation Sunday afternoon. This will probably be the popular idol's last public appearance before his departure, and for that reason many will be on deck to see him and watch him play baseball. Quite a turnout is expected from the motion picture colony at Hollywood to see the game.

Several well-known stars of professional baseball, among them Bing Bodie, will appear in Palms uniforms at the game. It is expected that the contest will be a hard fought, for both teams have been considerably strengthened since they last met. The White Sox looked really good last Sunday when they played the Sawtelle aggregation 11 innings to a 4 to 4 tie. The new players in Glendale uniforms have added considerable strength to Donlin's team. Mike will use George Walsh in place of Coleman in left field. Otherwise his lineup will be unchanged.

A battle that will have considerable bearing on the standings of the Triple A league will be staged at Signal Hill when the Wilmington and Shell Oil teams meet. At present Pete Mele's harbor crew is leading the way, one full game ahead of San Pedro and Shell. Should Josh Clark's outfit stop the leaders, a three-way tie will result, adding considerable interest to the Triple A scrap.

The Union Tool team of Torrance will go to Sawtelle to battle with the nine of that city. Larry Arnold is taking no chances on losing the game, and for that reason has bolstered his Sawtelle club by signing up Chuck Leathers. Leathers has played with the Chicago Cubs and other professional teams, and should be a real asset to Sawtelle.

The St. Louis Giants, who took the place of the Anaheim team in the league, will meet San Pedro at the harbor lot. Both teams are speedy and a good tilt is expected. In the San Fernando Valley league the Glendale Knights of Columbus go to Van Nuys to meet the aggregation of that city.

HUSKIES ARE DUE TO LEAVE SEATTLE FOR L. A. TONIGHT

SEATTLE, Dec. 28.—Huskies from the University of Washington, numbering 29 football players, several coaches and managers and a flock of some 40 boosters will board a Union Pacific train here at midnight tonight for Pasadena, where they will meet the United States Naval Academy on New Year's day in the great east-west football game.

Jack Bagwell, big tackle who has been on the job all season without more than a few minutes' play, was rewarded for his faithfulness by the coach with the twenty-ninth berth. The remaining 28 players are as follows: Walters and Hagerty, centers; Bellman, Bryan, Lillis and McRae, guards; Kuhn, Petrie, Abe Wilson, Christie and Eberhart, tackles; Cole, DuBois, Hall, Westman and Seivers, ends; Sorman, Abel, Hill and Guttersen, quarterbacks; Ziel, George Wilson, Green, Beckett and Beck, halfbacks; Tesreau and Smith, fullbacks. Coach Enoch Bagshaw, Dorsett Graves and Wayne Sutton and Manager Murray, Owell are with the team.

The team completed its practice here today. Signal drill, dummy scrimmage against Navy plays, passing and kicking comprised the work. The team appeared to be in good form at the final workout, and all ready to leave to defend the honors of the west.

Manager Owell and his assistants spent much time yesterday getting equipment ready for the trip. Every Washington regular will be in good shape unless perhaps Ed Kuhn, the big tackle, may not be as strong as he might after several weeks out of the game. The big Spokane man has worked hard these two weeks, however, and should be stronger anyway than he was for the California game when he had had but one day of real work in nearly two weeks.

The Annapolis Navy team is now on the California Limited speeding west for the big game. Yesterday the Middies stopped off at Kansas City long enough to stretch their legs and exhibit themselves to the crowd at the station. They looked like they were in good condition and showed that the Navy could not be "got" in any easy fashion by Washington.

A stop at the Grand Canyon is scheduled before the Navy riders reach Los Angeles. Probably a hike will feature the stop.

WOULD AMEND FOOTBALL CODE FOR U. S.-CANADA

[By Associated Press]

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 28.—International intercollegiate football contests between American and Canadian colleges would be made entirely practicable by certain minor changes in both codes of rules, in the opinion of Frank Shaughnessy, coach of McGill university, Montreal. Shaughnessy, a former Notre Dame football star who is now manager of the Syracuse International league baseball club in addition to his coaching duties at Montreal, came here in connection with the impending invasions of the McGill hockey team. Speaking from his experiences in football on both sides of the border, he said the chief obstacle to a common basis for the sport was the difference in the rules regarding interference. In the Canadian game the offensive must gain ten yards in three downs while in the United States a team is given four downs to gain the same distance. In Canada interference also is restricted to three yards in front of the line of scrimmage and only men within one yard of the line when the ball is put into play are allowed to interfere. Here interference is unlimited.

The McGill coach said he believed that modification of the Canadian rules regarding interference to conform to American standards would benefit the game there. He also took the stand that introduction of the forward pass into the Canadian game would be beneficial and that adoption of the Canadian rules regarding kicking behind an opponent's goal line would help the American game. In Canada kicking behind the opposing team's goal counts for a single point if the opponent is unable to carry or kick out on the playing field.

American players as a rule, according to Shaughnessy, are superior to Canadian in line play and line plunging, but Canadians excel in open field running and kicking. The appearance of the McGill team against Dartmouth at Hanover next fall will make its first appearance in New England in many years, although McGill is credited with having introduced the Rugby game in the United States in a contest with Harvard in 1874.

Mice object to camphor. If it is put in places frequently by them, it will drive them away completely.

GOLDEN BEAR FIVE IN TWO GAMES, POMONA

California's Golden Bears are once more in our midst, this time it being the Blue and Gold basketballers, who are hogging the limelight for a short period. Coach E. H. Wight and thirteen of the Bruin cage stars are hanging out at Pomona College, where they are conditioning themselves for the 1924 Pacific Coast season, which promises to be an exceedingly interesting one.

The Bears go into action this evening, playing two games on the Pomona College court at Claremont. Coach Wight will use two full squads, La Verne College and the Pomona Y. M. C. A. furnishing the opposition. The former outfit is speedy and will make the north-easters step fast to win. Manager Hodge is endeavoring to arrange a game with the Riverside Y. M. C. A. quintet for tomorrow night.

Next Thursday evening the Bruin five will go to Redlands to play Coach Cecil Cushman's University of Redlands team. The following Saturday night the Blue and Gold lads will perform at Whittier, against the Whittier College quintet.

Coach Wight will take his men home a week from Sunday, and on the fifteenth they will open the season against the Olympic Club. On the eighteenth and nineteenth they play the University of Southern California five at Berkeley.

Capt. Johnny Tait, all-Pacific Coast forward last year, is holding down one of the goal shooting berths this season, and local fans who have seen the Bear cager in action will recall his uncanny ability as a free throw artist. However, who has played with the Bears for the last two seasons, is favored for the other forward position, although there are a whole flock of other young men aspiring to the job.

Kincad, Belasco and Kye, all letter men from last year's aggregation, will alternate at the guard positions, Kincad being the most reliable of the three. He is stocky and a born fighter. The center job lies between Meacham and Higgins, the latter a star on last year's frosh outfit. Meacham hails from Davis Farm.

IRISH FREE STATE URGES ECONOMY

[By Associated Press]

DUBLIN, Dec. 27.—The Free State government is confronted with serious financial problems, and the finance minister has announced that the balancing of the budget can be accomplished only by practicing strict economy, as taxation has reached the limit. The Dail has endorsed the economies on salaries of school teachers and old age pensions on the assurance that cuts are to be enforced in other departments.

Criticism has been directed at the expenditure caused by the change of government and the consequence that the Free State now is obliged to pay pensions to displaced British officials as well as the salaries of those appointed to succeed them.

It is hoped to effect a large saving in the expense of the army by reducing the present cost of more than $500,000 to about $200,000. It has been urged that Ireland does not need an army larger than that of Canada, which costs $7,500,000. The British government has allocated $7,500,000 to provide houses for the ex-soldiers. The fund is to be administered by a board of five members, three to be named by the British government and one each by the north and southern governments of Ireland.

INDUSTRIAL BALL TEAMS PLAY HERE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Playing to decide the championship of the Major Industrial league of Los Angeles, the East Pacific Electric baseball team and the N. O. Nelson aggregation will meet at the Glendale baseball park at 2:15 tomorrow afternoon. The game will be fast and hard fought, and should be a good exhibition of baseball.

The two teams are tied for the championship of the Industrial league. They have met twice before this season, each taking one of the encounters. As they could not agree on a Los Angeles stadium with which to play, they finally selected the White Sox ball yard on San Fernando road here. Some real good players appear in the ranks of both teams. The lineup will be as follows:

PACIFIC ELECTRIC N. O. NELSON

LEGION BASKETBALL TEAM WINS OVER VICTORY POST

Glendale American Legion Basketball team took the quintet from Victory Post, Los Angeles down, the line by the score of 41 to 30 in the high school gymnasium last night in an American Legion league game. The score at the end of the half was Glendale 21, Victory 13. By their win over Victory Post the Glendale Legionnaires retained their place at the head of the Legion loop. The locals have won three games without a loss. Next Thursday night they meet Santa Monica post in the local high school gymnasium. The Santa Monica bunch is good, but they will have to go some to beat the Glendale five. The Glendale lineup last night:

W. Brown, C. E. Leggett and A. G. Wheelon, forwards; W. E. Beach and W. Bunker centers; W. E. Hilbert, Nelson, Ed Austin and Harry Painter, guards.

"Dear Mr. Barnes: I will appreciate very much a few pointers from you on how properly to introduce wrist action into the drive, and how to approximate to work my wrists properly, as I get very poor distance even on a straight ball, and such efforts as have been made to straighten me out have failed."
T. R. L.

Answer: I presume you want information on what takes place with the wrists in hitting the ball, rather than how they should be handled in taking the club back, though there is, of course, a certain connection between the two phases of the swing.

In the first place, flexibility to a reasonable degree is essential. You can't play good golf with tight wrists. At the top of the full swing the wrists have bent in toward the body in allowing the club to settle to approximately parallel to the ground. Starting the club down, the wrists maintain this same position relative to the hands until the hands have gotten down about level with the waist or possibly a little lower.

At this point they are snapped forward in the direction the hands are traveling to give extra speed to the clubhead. It is this action that you no doubt have reference to.

But there is this point to bear in mind in his quick bending forward of the wrists. The forward movement of the hands, and, of course, the arms, must not be checked, but must be allowed to follow on through.

An idea of what happens if the hands are checked can be easily gotten in watching a player try to play a chip shot with a mashie purely through a snap of the wrists. The effort is invariably a failure, and failure will mark such an attempt with the driver. (Copyright, 1923, by Bell Syn. Inc.)

"THE CALL OF THE CANYON"

Jazz-mad New York and the rugged West, frivolous society and the mighty realities of Nature—this picture shows both. A Zane Grey story! A guaranteed thriller! Same author, director and leading players of "To the Last Man." Same stirring entertainment. Western pictures may come and go, but "The Call of the Canyon" will echo in your heart forever.

VICTORIA, British Columbia.—The coal production of the mines of the province of British Columbia during the month of October, 1923, totals 229,293 tons, an increase over the month of September production of 46,659 tons. Of the total production for the month the mines on Vancouver Island produced 143,020 tons, or approximately 65 per cent, and 1,140 tons over the production of last month.

ROSSLAND, British Columbia.—One that will average nearly $1,000 per gunny sack was sent to the smelter from I. X. L. Mine at Rossland recently. This is the richest shipment ever made in Rossland. Forty tons were shipped.

HAM BAKED IN MILK

Use a small slice of ham about an inch thick. Pour boiling water over it and let stand about 10 minutes. Put in pan, add 1 cup of milk and bake slowly for 25 minutes. Remove ham and add more milk and thicken for gravy.

LAST TIMES FOR "POLLYANNA" AT T. A. CLUBHOUSE

Charming Edythe Elliott and the Royal Stock company are making another big hit this week with their excellent production of "Pollyanna," and Glendallians who have attended are enthusiastic in their praise.

For a sweet, wholesome story "Pollyanna" is in a class by itself and teaches a real moral without being preachy, for the laughter and tears are so cleverly blended that one forgets it is a play.

It will be presented for the last time tonight, Saturday matinee and Saturday night with tickets on sale at Mathews' confectionery, corner Orange and Colorado. "Pollyanna" is the original "glad girl." Regardless of where she is placed she finds something for which to be glad. Her "glad game" is contagious, and her altogether charming and sparkling way of presenting it immediately captivates her hearers. She is inviting the people of Glendale to join in the "game" with her and her appealing and wholehearted invitation leaves no room for a refusal. You'll simply adore "Pollyanna."

joyable feature at the T. D. & L. Theatre today and again tomorrow, includes Richard Dix, Lois Wilson and Marjorie Daw, featured in the principal roles. Those playing in support are Noah Beery, Ricardo Cortez, Lillian Leighton, Helen Dunbar, Leonard Clapham, Edward Clayton, Dorothy Seastrom, Lura Anson, Charles Richards, Danny Hoy, Arthur Rankin and Mervyn Le Roy.

LEADING MAN IN VIOLA DANA FILM MEETS HOODOOS

Allen Forrest ran up against a series of bad omens during the location trip he made with the Viola Dana company for the screening of the little star's newest play, "A Noise in Newboro," now at the Glendale Theatre.

It was a coincidence that he had lower berth No. 13 going to the little northern California town of Visalia both going and coming. He returned to the studio on November 13. He had room 113 in the Johnson Hotel in Visalia.

Returning to the Metro studios in Hollywood he was assigned to dressing room No. 23. As he opened the door the cat, the pet of the woman who keeps that section of dressing rooms in order, rushed past him. The cat is large and coal black.

He opened one of his bags and discovered that a plate glass mirror, which he had used for make-up purposes ever since he has been in motion pictures, was cracked. Others appearing in support of Miss Dana in this picture include David Butler, Malcolm McGregor, Betty Francisco, Eva Novak, Bert Woodruff and Alfred Allen.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE "THE MAIL MAN"? GATEWAY

How many pairs of shoes does a mail man wear in a year?

Ralph Lewis, who made a study of the question in preparation for his work in the title role of "The Mail Man," Emory Johnson's latest commercial hero story, which will be the attraction at the Gateway today, says he found one postman that has worn out as many as twenty-five pairs during the fifty-two weeks. There are thousands of mail men in the country who will vouch for the above statement and many thousands who will enjoy seeing themselves as Emory Johnson sees them to say nothing of the general public in daily touch with the most important branch of Uncle Sam's civil workers, for Mr. Johnson has cleverly blended humor, pathos and thrilling action into the production of the picture.

An added feature of tonight's showing of this wonder film at the Gateway Theatre will be selections by the big Letter Carriers' band, one of the finest musical organizations in this section. Also, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson will sing one or more solos. The Gateway management is glad to put on a film like this showing the hard work done by our mail men.

TOMATO AND CHEESE SANDWICHES

This is nice for sandwiches: The bread used may be either toasted or plain. Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in a saucepan, add 2 slices of onion and fry until butter begins to brown. Add 2 cups of canned tomatoes and 2 whole cloves and cook 14 hour. Strain. Then melt 1 tablespoon of butter, stir in 1-2 tablespoon flour, add strained tomatoes slowly and stir until it boils. Add 1 cup cheese in small pieces, stir until cheese is melted, season to taste with salt and paprika and last of all stir in beaten yolks of 2 eggs. When the paste is cold spread on bread.
